CCE has the right to request that storage of equipment or other substances in the vicinity of CCE submetering equipment the CCE personnel identify as a potential hazard are to be relocated immediately.

5.0 FEES AND CHARGES

5.1 OPENING AND CLOSING ACCOUNTS

Owners of units in which CCE provides submetering services to are required to have an account open with CCE until such time the unit is sold. It is optional for a Tenant in a unit to have their own separate account. At any time, a Board of Directors can determine that tenant accounts may not be permitted for a property. Tenant accounts are a privilege, not a right, and may be closed at any time at the discretion of CCE. This may include but not limited to, not maintaining good payment standing, harassment such as vulgar and inappropriate behaviour and/or language. All new tenant accounts are required to be signed up for Pre-Authorized Debit (PAD), whereby bill payments are automatically withdrawn from accounts prior to bill due dates. Low income eligible tenant customers may be exempt from the requirement at the discretion of CCE.

Customers are required to complete CCE's online form to open a new account at a minimum of three (3) business days before the close of a sale or start/end of a tenant lease. CCE will respond with a confirmation of that account opening request via email. A CCE representative will review the request and confirm the data provided is correct to ensure the request is valid. Once confirmed a new account will be setup for the unit occupant and account setup information sent to the new customer. The account is effective from the start date provided and customers will be billed accordingly. For Owners, this is typically the sale close date or occupancy date, which ever comes first. For Tenants, this is the lease start date.

Accounts may only be opened by those individuals in which the account is in the name of. Owners are not permitted to open accounts on behalf of Tenants. An owner account is required for each unit/address prior to a tenant account being opened/activated.

All owners (landlords) whom have tenants with accounts are required to provide CCE an email address to receive notifications regarding unit arrears. Tenant accounts will not be opened for a unit unless the owner's email is provided.

Each new account setup by a unit owner and / or a tenant is subject to a one-time setup fee. This setup fee is outlined in the CCE fee schedule and will vary with each building / complex. A fee schedule is made available to unit owners and tenants that open an account with CCE. This fee is not waived under any circumstance.

Customers are responsible for notifying CCE when an account needs to be closed as the customer is vacating (end of tenant lease) or selling a unit a minimum of three (3) business days before such date. CCE will bill usage and fees according to the information provided on customer accounts for start and end dates.

Please be advised that CCE reserves the right to close any owner or tenant account due to harassment (which includes, but not limited to: vulgar language, inappropriate behaviour and/or language) of CCE's staff members. Once an account is closed on these terms, the customer will not be eligible to open another account with CCE at any time, regardless if they have moved locations.

5.2 LATE PAYMENT CHARGES

CCE customers are permitted a minimum of twenty (20) days from the bill issue date on the statement to make payment. A payment is deemed late if it is made to a financial institution after the due date or a cheque payment is received more than three days after the due date. Please be advised that CCE is not responsible for the processing time(s) / date(s) required by the customer's financial institution. The payment will still be deemed late if not received by CCE on the due date listed on each bill. The payment must be made by the customer with consideration of bank processing time (s) / date (s) which may take up to five (5) business days. A late payment charge of 19.56% per year or 1.5% monthly will be applied to all overdue balances. Any partial payments that are made by a customer on or before the due date shall be applied to the account balance before the imposition of a late payment charge on an account.

Non-payment of your Utility bill may lead to utility disconnection, account closure, negative impact to credit rating, balance transfer to current unit owner, or the placement of a lien on the unit. CCE offers several payment methods and makes every effort to contact unit owner and inform them of the methods. Additional details on account arrears is provided in Section 8.1 - Billing & Arrears.

Late payment charges as well as charges related to disconnection, will not be imposed on eligible low-income customers after they entered into an arrears payment agreement as part of the disconnection process. For more detail see Section 9 - Service Disconnection.

CCE is not responsible for delays in receiving mailed cheques as a result of Canada Post operations.

5.3 LIEN CHARGES

Utilities billed by CCE may form part of common expenses under each condominium, as such they are subject to provisions of The Condominium Act 1998 including registration of lien on a property for non-payment. Should a Notice of Lien be processed by CCE, a property management company, or a solicitor on behalf of the Condominium Corporation, CCE or a solicitor shall apply a processing charge to the related account in the amount of $450 ($350 solicitor fee plus $100 CCE administration fee). If the account balance remains unpaid and a lien is registered, additional solicitor fees in excess of $1,200 will also be charged to the customer through the Corporation's solicitor.

5.4 DISCONNECTION AND RECONNECTION CHARGES

CCE shall apply disconnection and reconnection charges to a customer's account associated with the disconnection of a utility. Disconnection and reconnection charges will vary from building to building and are available to unit owners upon request or as part of the CCE Welcome Package in the 'Fee Disclosure' statement so they are aware of the specific charges that may be applied to their account. Charges for disconnection and reconnection are typically subject to time of day restrictions, travel distance and other factors that may affect the application of a disconnection or reconnection service call. All unit owners that are subject to utility disconnection will receive notice from CCE as discussed in detail in Section 9 – Service Disconnection of this document.

5.5 PAPER BILLING FEE

With the advent of the internet age CCE has made many efforts to modernize the historical utility practice of paper billing. As such, there are now multiple options for a customer to receive their bills either online or through email billing that are both good for the environment and are less energy intensive. To encourage customers to think green and to reduce waste, CCE applies a paper billing fee to accounts that prefer to receive their bills in paper format. The additional charge covers the paper costs, printing costs, postage and mailing costs for that process and additional labour to mail bills to Customers. CCE attempts to provide the most cost-effective service to all customers and electronic billing is significantly more cost and labour effective.

Customers that have a disability and require a paper bill for medical reasons may submit a medical request from a physician for paper bills and additional fees will be removed from their account for this service.

5.6 NON-SUFFICIENT FUNDS FROM CHEQUE AND PRE-AUTHORIZED PAYMENT PLANS

CCE provides both Pre-Authorized Payment (PAD) and cheque payment options. When cheques are provided by customers it is expected that the customer has allocated the correct amount of funds in their account to cover the cheque. Cheques that are provided by a customer and are returned NSF (Non-Sufficient Funds) will be subject to an additional charge of $45 as outlined in the fee structure document for a building. This same fee also applies to payments that are returned NSF through the pre-authorized (PAD) payment plan process. These fees are applied to a customer account when confirmation that the returned payment is connected to a customer's account.

5.7 CUSTOMER CREDITS AND REFUNDS

Customers that accrue a credit in their CCE account will be able to receive that credit upon the closure of that account once all outstanding balances and fees have been paid. Otherwise the credit will be held by CCE until such a time as the subsequent utility invoice is issued and the credits are consumed as payment toward a utility invoice.

A $30 +hst credit processing fee will be charged in the following situations:

- a credit on an account is the result of an overpayment (including accidental payments) and not part of a security deposit;
- a credit is being returned in advance of account closure, at the discretion of CCE;
- the customer did not notify us that the account was to be closed on or before the account closure date; and
- the customer does not accept the payment and the credit needs to be re-issued or the customer requests a different payment method.

Should a customer with a credit balance reside overseas when the credit is issued, and the only available option is to provide it by wire transfer, a $150 wire transfer processing fee will be applied. Account credits are issued to the customer in the form of an e-transfer or mailed cheque within 6 weeks of account closure. Credits will be held on account for up to 90 days before the credit balance is removed from the account. CCE will attempt to contact the account holder a minimum of three (3) times within the 90-day period by both phone and email. Should a customer not accept the e-transfer and it expires, they will be charged a processing fee of $30 +hst for any subsequent attempts at sending the e-transfer credit.

Any large sum (>$500) accidental payments made on account will require a minimum two (2) week hold time prior to being returned to the customer. This is to ensure that the bank has fully processed the transaction and any potential subsequent stop order requests have been processed.

5.8 REQUEST FOR HISTORICAL UTILITY DATA

CCE has a very detailed and extensive utility customer management interface that allows each customer to interact and manage their utility use. The online web portal interface also allows customers to have access to historical data for customers. This online Interface can often provide hourly data for customers to utilize for improved utility management. In the event that a customer requests data that may require CCE representatives to search back into archived files or apply time for such a request, additional fees at a rate of $50 / hour may be applied to a customer account for extracting and providing this customer data.

5.9 REGULATORY COST ASSESSMENTS

CCE participates in regulated utility industries and from time to time the regulator may impose cost assessments on CCE as a member of this regulated industry. These costs are set by the regulatory bodies such as the Government of Canada, the Province of Ontario and the Ontario Energy Board and are included on consumer bills as part of the submetering services being provided. CCE shall charge to account holder a proportion share of such cost assessments that shall become owing to the regulatory bodies including administrative and management costs. Such costs may be included on utility invoices and form part of the Administration fee to assist with collection.

5.10 THIRD PARTY METER TESTING

If a utility meter is removed and tested by a third-party meter testing facility to resolve a dispute. Additional fees may be incurred for this process and the owner may be liable to pay such charges if the disputed meter is verified and operating within appropriate tolerances by the testing facility. Charges will include that to cover the cost of removing the existing meter, testing of the meter, installation of a temporary meter and reporting from the third-party testing facility.

5.11 METER INSPECTIONS

Should a customer request that an inspection be completed by a CCE technician on a meter, a fee of $100 /hr will be charged to the customer's account.

5.12 TAMPERING CHARGE

If during the course of an onsite inspection or test, CCE evaluates that the meter has been tampered with by the unit owner or the condominium corporation, CCE reserves the right to impose a tampering fee of not less than $1,500. The fee will be used to pay for the replacement, re-certification and re-installation of a new meter so that CCE can continue to fulfill its obligation as the utility service provider.

5.13 NEW METER INSTALLATION

Should CCE determine that an existing meter may need to be replaced with a new one due to malfunction, the owner may be responsible for any costs associated with the repair or replacement of equipment, this is at the sole discretion of CCE.

5.14 APPOINTMENT NO-SHOW CHARGE

Should a customer confirm an appointment with CCE for a technician or contractor to complete an inspection or repair/replacement work in their home and they do not show up to allow access or deny access at the door for the technician / contractor to complete the necessary work, the customer shall be charged a fee of $100.

5.15 BILLING ADJUSTMENTS

Billing adjustments may be required for a variety of reasons. Any required billing adjustments shall be completed for the next bill cycle unless the circumstance in which created the need for a billing adjustment is not resolved.

Should a tenant fail to set up an account within the required timeline of three (3) business days prior to the lease start date as indicated in Section 5.1 of this document, any invoices issued to the Owner (landlord) will not be revised. Billing will switch over to the tenant once the tenant has successfully opened an account and the start bill date will line up with the end bill date of the last bill issued to the owner.

Any billing adjustments required on Owner accounts as a result of the Owner failing to set up an account within the required timeline of three (3) business days prior to the lease start date or failed to notify us of a sale close and as indicated in Section 5.1 of this document will be charged a $25 processing fee for adjustments which go back up to three calendar months. Should the adjustment extend past three (3) months of billing, a 5% processing fee on the total adjustment amount will be charged to the customer whom failed to notify us of the sale of unit and an interest fee of prime + 2.5% on the total adjustment amount will be charged to the customer who failed to set up an account with CCE.

Any billing adjustments required on Tenant accounts as a result of not providing updates or accurate lease start / end date information will be charged a $25 processing fee. Tenants which are considered low income and are able to provide agency verification will be charged a $10 processing fee.

5.16 PAYMENT ERRORS

Should customers make payment to the wrong account number more than once in the duration in which the account is active, a $10 charge will be applied to the account for each time there is a payment made in error.

6.0 SECURITY DEPOSIT REQUIREMENTS

Unless otherwise expressly agreed to in a customer agreement or contract with Corporation and with the exception of customers who meet the security deposit waiver conditions described in Section 6.1– Security Deposit Waiver, all customers are required to pay a security deposit. The security deposit is collected for in the event a customer does not pay their bill, the deposit is applied to cover any arrears. This action is carried out at the discretion of CCE.

Security deposits must be paid to CCE using one of the following methods:

- Cheque;
- Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) through the bank; or
- Pre-Authorized Payment (PAD) as withdrawn by CCE

Non-residential customers have the following additional payment option:

- automatically renewing, invoiceable letter of credit from a bank

The amount of the security deposit will not exceed the billing cycle factor (2.5 for monthly billing and 1.75 for bi-monthly billing) times the estimated monthly bill based on the customer's average monthly load during the most recent 12 consecutive months within the past two years. Where the average monthly load for the customer is not available, a reasonable estimate will be made using information from a similar property used for similar purposes. Where a non-residential customer has a payment history which discloses more than one disconnection notice in a relevant 12-month period, that customer will be subject to a security deposit which is calculated by using the consumer's highest monthly load in the most recent 12 consecutive months. The amount of a security deposit is clearly documented in each signed contract agreement with the Condominium Corporation or commercial business, respectively, and will remain unchanged for the duration of the contract.

In the event a security deposit is used to cover arrears, a security deposit of the same amount will be re-applied to the account by CCE for payment on the next bill and will be held on the account until one year of good payment standing is achieved.

Security deposits are treated the same as usage and fees with respect to CCE arrears policies.

Customers have the option of paying the security deposit in four (4) equal payments over a 4 month period with the first payment being due upon being charged the deposit and subsequent payments in the months following. Customers must advise CCE of this request prior to being charged the deposit on their first invoice. When a deposit is used to cover arrears, customers also have the option of paying it back in equal payments over a six (6) month period starting with the first payment due on the next bill after the deposit was applied to arrears and subsequent payments in the months following. Those receiving bills on a bi-monthly basis will be charged for two (2) security deposit payments on one bill.

6.1 SECURITY DEPOSIT WAIVER

Customers may obtain a security deposit waiver in one of the following ways:

1. A Customer provides CCE with a credit reference letter from a licensed electricity or gas distributor in Canada confirming at least 1 years' worth of good payment history occurring within the 12 months prior for the residential customer and 3 year's worth of good payment history occurring within the 12 months prior for the commercial customer. CCE has the right to accept other forms of credit references at their discretion.
2. The customer elects to sign up for bill payment by PAD payment method with CCE by providing a PAD form from their bank or void cheque and the next year of payments are processed without incident by the PAD system. PAD payment must remain on the account for one (1) year, if the PAD option is removed then the security deposit fee is re-applied to the account.
3. If a residential customer in Ontario qualifies as an eligible low-income consumer and the customer provides a completed waiver of the applicable security deposit from a cooperating social service agency and meets the applicable waiver conditions under the Ontario Sub-metering Code. This applies to electricity and gas customers only.

In order to have the security deposit remain waived for the period of one year, the customer must remain in good payment standing. Should a customer no longer meet the criteria of good payment standing within the one year period, the security deposit will be added back on the account regardless if the customer meets criteria 1 and 2 listed above.

6.2 SECURITY DEPOSIT REFUND

Security Deposits will be refunded to the Customer through crediting the account the amount of the security deposit once a good payment history has been established for a period of twelve (12) consecutive months. A poor payment history includes:

- more than one NSF charge has to be applied to the account;
- a disconnection notice was issued;
- a Notice of Lien was issued;
- arrears have reached 30 days;
- the security deposit had to be used to cover arrears more than one time;
- the initial security deposit had to be used to prevent disconnection or lien; or
- more than one late payment made on account within a 12-month period.

If a customer has a poor payment history, the security deposit will continue to be held on account until one year of good payment standing occurs, at which time it will be released back onto the account.

Deposits will also be refunded when a Customer terminates their account with CCE provided all outstanding balances and fees have been paid. See Section 5.7 of this document for details.

Monthly interest will accrue on paid security deposits. Interest will be calculated at the rate prescribed by the OEB, which currently is the average monthly prime lending rate less than two (2) percent as set by the Bank of Canada. Interest on security deposits shall begin to accrue from the date of receipt in full by CCE. Interest will be paid to the Customer by crediting their account on a yearly basis or when the account is closed, whichever comes first.

Security Deposits with any unpaid accrued interest will be applied to an account at the time of issuing a final billing. Refunds will be issued within 45 days of the final billing date provided CCE is able to contact the account holder at their new residence and update their account information to ensure the refund is correctly returned. Refunds that CCE is unable to return within 90 days of the account's final billing date will no longer be eligible for return.

7.0 PAYMENT OPTIONS

CCE provides three payment methods to customers for paying CCE Bills:

- Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) from a registered bank or financial institution;
- Pre-authorized Debit (PAD) from their bank account (setup by providing a void cheque, completed PAD form, or completing the appropriate online form on our customer Web portal); and
- Mailed Cheque

All tenant accounts must be set up on PAD payment. Owner accounts have the option of all three payment types unless otherwise determined by a Condominium Corporation.

Electronic Funds Transfer: This includes payments made by a customer through a registered bank or financial institution through online banking, phone banking or in-person at a branch. Payments processed by this method include two date stamps; a posted date (date of payment through the customer's financial institution) and an effective date stamp (date which the bank has processed the payment). For the purpose of payment processing, CCE applies the posted date stamp to customer transactions when determining the date on which the payment was processed by the customer. This date stamp is also used when calculating interest on outstanding balances to determine the appropriate application of interest.

Pre-Authorized Debit (PAD): Customers have the option of being on PAD payment. Customers that enroll in the CCE PAD payment program are subject to the terms and conditions of that program. PAD payments are processed within 10 days prior to the bill due date. Enrolled accounts that have an outstanding account balance at the time of processing will be included in the PAD run and payment withdrawn from their account. New PAD payment information must be provided by the 15th of each month.

Mailed Cheques: Customers have the option to mail a cheque for payment to our Post Office Box. When CCE receives mailed Cheques for customer accounts, the post date is backdated to three days. Customers that mail cheques that arrive before the fourth day after the due date are considered on time. Payment received in this manner will be applied to outstanding account balances before the application of interest. CCE is not responsible for delays resulting from Canada Post operations.

8.0 BILLING & ARREARS

8.1 OUTSTANDING BALANCES ON CUSTOMER ACCOUNTS - ARREARS MANAGEMENT POLICY

All CCE issued utility bills are due a minimum of 20 days following the bill issue date as indicated on the bill. Outstanding payments that exceed that time period are considered in arrears and subject to the following collection activities according to the CCE Arrears Management Policy.

- Late Payment Notices - CCE will issue a late notice to the customer by email or by mail once the due date for payment has passed. The late notice to each customer will outline the amount outstanding and the potential consequences of non-payment including future collections activities. This notice will be issued 1-7 days after the bill due date. CCE will issue an additional Final Notice to the customer by email or mail should the account remain in arrears. This notice will outline the total amount in arrears, a due date for payment and next steps in the collections process should the balance remain unpaid. Late notices issued with respect to arrears on tenant accounts will be issued to both the tenant and the owner (landlord) as the owner of the unit is ultimately responsible for any arrears associated with the unit. All owner accounts which have tenant accounts associated with the unit, must provide an active email address to receive arrears correspondence.
- Interest Charges - CCE will apply interest to unpaid balances as detailed in Section 5.2 – Late Payment Charges
- Collection Calls & Emails - CCE will undertake collection calls and emails to customers in arrears in an attempt to collect the amount in arrears. All owners which are landlords that have rental unit arrears will be contacted.
- Tenant Account Closure Warning Notices – CCE may issue warnings to tenants and owners (landlords) when there is risk of an account being closed due to arrears as described in Section 8.2 – Outstanding Balance Transfer & Account Closure Policy for Tenant Arrears
- Rental Unit Unpaid Balances Transferred to Owner –Unpaid balances associated with Tenant accounts may be transferred to the owner’s account for immediate payment (10 business days) as described in Section 8.2 – Outstanding Balance Transfer & Account Closure Policy for Tenant Arrears.
- Disconnection – CCE may disconnect a utility service(s) for non-payment as detailed in Section 9 – Service Disconnection.

- Lien on Property – CCE, Property Management or solicitor may issue a Notice of Lien to the customer on behalf of the Condominium Corporation for non-payment as detailed in Section 11 – Registration of Lien for Non-Payment.

Should an owner or tenant vacate a unit with outstanding unpaid CCE account balances, CCE has the right to collect the unpaid amounts from the current owner of the unit as debts associated with the property are ultimately the responsibility of the current property owner.

CCE may provide arrears information to the Property Management for the Condominium Corporation and/or to a collection agency at its sole and absolute discretion.

CCE is not liable for any effect to a Customer's credit score or rating as a result of collection activities that are undertaken for unpaid customer balances.

8.2 OUTSTANDING BALANCE TRANSFER & ACCOUNT CLOSURE POLICY FOR TENANT ARREARS – TENANT ARREARS POLICY

For rental units CCE offers tenants the ability to setup account and be billed directly for utility use. This service is provided to unit owners as a courtesy and maybe revoked by CCE or by the Condominium Corporation, at their sole and absolute discretion. All new tenant accounts are required to be set up on PAD payment, CCE will not accept any other form of payment from a tenant.

If a Tenant declares end of tenancy from the property, CCE will automatically convert the billing over to the unit Owner unless a new tenant has created an account and declared their intention to occupy the premises. Landlords assume responsibility for paying for service after the closure of a tenant account until such a time a new tenant account is opened. Tenant account close dates should align with the lease end date. The sole and absolute responsibility for utility payment in rental units always rests with the Landlord of the unit and outstanding balances by Tenants that remain in arrears may be at the discretion of CCE and with notice to the unit Owner be transferred to the Owner/Landlord in the event that payment remains outstanding beyond the invoice due date.

Should a tenant vacate the property and unpaid bills remain associated with the unit, the unpaid balances will be transferred to the Owner (landlord) account for immediate payment (10 business days). This transfer can occur at anytime after which the tenant has vacated and the balances are in arrears.

Should unpaid balances on tenant accounts reach 30 days in arrears, the unpaid balances will be transferred to the Owner (landlord) account for immediate payment (10 business days). This transfer can occur on or after the arrears reach 30 days.

Tenants with a demonstrated poor payment history may have their account closed at the discretion of CCE. For the purposes of this policy, a poor payment history is defined as:

- more than one NSF charge has to be applied to the account;
- a disconnection notice was issued;
- arrears reaching 30 days;
- the security deposit had to be used to cover arrears more than one time;
- the initial security deposit had to be used to prevent disconnection or lien; or
- more than one late payment made on account within a 12-month period.

CCE may elect to close the account with notice, and shall revert to billing the unit owner of record in such circumstances. All unpaid balances from the Tenant account are transferred to the owner's account for immediate payment (10 business days). Once a customer has had their account closed under the Tenant Arrears Policy, they will not be able to open any future accounts with CCE, regardless of location (i.e., change in building occupancy).

If a Tenant has an outstanding balance that exceeds the invoice due date, CCE has the right to contact the owner and inform them that the unit has an outstanding utility invoice and that collections actions may be initiated. Tenant's that sign up for an independent utility account with CCE, agree to such disclosures as part of their service agreement during the term of their tenancy.

9.0 SERVICE DISCONNECTION

Significant delays and obstruction to entrance to units by customers or the Condominium Corporation can constitute a breach of contract and may be subject to financial penalties associated with such obstruction.

The owner of a building and/or condominium corporation shall permanently identify each metered service with respect to its specific unit, address or apartment number. The identification shall be applied to all service switches, circuit breakers, meter cabinets and meter mounting devices, shutoff valves to ensure.

12.2 METER READING AND MANAGEMENT

CCE shall have access to the customer's property and/or electronic access to the metering equipment for meter reading purposes. If a reading cannot be obtained, the customer's bill will be estimated according to historical consumption values normalized on a daily time frame adjusted to the billing period. 12.3 TELEMETRY METER READING AND MANAGEMENT

Meter's that are read remotely through a telemetry based system will report regularly and may be made available to the unit owner on the CCE web interface for better understanding and management of the system. When meter reading faults occur for telemetry based systems they can result in periodic delays in web interface reporting of utility metering data and alarming. 12.5 METER DISPUTE TESTING

The following meter testing and dispute policy will be applied to each utility metering type as detailed below.

12.5.1 ELECTRICITY AND NATURAL GAS METER DISPUTE TESTING PROCEDURE

CCE and the customer can resolve the majority of billing inquiries that occur without the assistance of Measurement Canada.

1. CCE will begin the investigation by assessing the customer's account and investigating any potential meter reading errors or associated billing errors. The results of the investigation and additional meter management documentation shall be forwarded to the Customer.
2. If the Customer is not satisfied with the results of the investigation, CCE will arrange for a site visit to determine if the customer's meter and billing readings are accurate for a fee to the customer. If the Customer remains unsatisfied with the results of the site investigation, additional investigations will be offered to the Customer for a fee. As part of this investigation the meter consumption testing will be compared to the master utility meter (building/complex utility meter) and a reconciliation across the entire building will be performed.
3. At this point, CCE will inform the customer that assistance from Measurement Canada will be necessary to resolve any disputes. Measurement Canada has jurisdiction in dispute investigations involving the condition or registration of a meter or metering installation.
4. If the Customer requests assistance from Measurement Canada, Measurement Canada will verify the accuracy of the meter, metering installation and billing. The customer will be responsible to cover the costs associated with the investigation if the dispute is dismissed by Measurement Canada.

12.5.2 WATER AND THERMAL ENERGY METER DISPUTE TESTING PROCEDURE

1. If the system is manually read by a Technician, a second reading of the meter is taken to assess whether a meter reading or recording error occurred during the meter reading process.
2. The majority of the meters used by CCE possess an internal data logger that records hourly usage data by the system. This internal data logger can be downloaded and used to evaluate the consumption profile as recorded by the unit for evaluation and comparison to the recorded unit consumption value.
3. The totalized use by each individual submeter is compared to the utility use as recorded by the master complex utility meters and compared to determine if the amount measured remain within an appropriate error band for the property. In some cases external issues such as maintenance failures and infrastructure leaks can make such a comparison irrelevant but for a properly functioning system the results can be an important tool in evaluating the utility meter.
4. If the unit owner is not satisfied by these above steps then the utility meter may be removed and tested by a third party meter testing facility and the testing results made available to both the Owner and CCE for the purpose of resolving such disputes. Both the Owner, the condominium corporation and CCE agree to uphold the results of the third party test. Additional fees may be incurred for this process and the owner may be liable to pay such charges if the disputed water meter is verified and operating within appropriate tolerances by the testing facility.

12.5.3 METERS INSPECTIONS, TESTING, REMOVAL AND REPLACEMENT

Meters may be inspected, tested, replaced, removed or re-verified according to accepted standards and practices. CCE shall have access to the customer's building and may request access to the customer's unit to perform such inspections, testing and verification or replacement. The building's Management shall permit, provide and maintain access to metering equipment for CCE's use as part of its service obligations.

If during the course of an onsite inspection or test, CCE evaluates that the meter has been tampered with by the unit owner or the condominium corporation, CCE reserves the right to impose a tampering fee of not less than $1,500. The fee will be used to pay for the replacement, re-certification and re-installation of a new meter so that CCE can continue to fulfill its obligation as the utility service provider.

In some circumstance the cost of repairs and meter replacement may be the responsibility of the owner of the unit.

Where the overbilled amount is less than an average bill, the amount will be applied as a credit onto the customer's account and will go towards the next bill.

CCE may, at its own discretion, waive the requirement for a security deposit. The Customer agrees that if CCE incurs any fees to obtain a credit reference, such fees will be included In the Customer's invoice(s).
